Emily Gets Her Gun: But Obama Wants To Take Yours

Synopsis

In the wake of tragic shootings in Newtown and Aurora, the anti-gun lobby has launched a campaign of lies, distortion, misrepresentation, and emotional manipulation that is breathtaking in its vitriol and its denial of basic facts. Their goal is to take away our Second Amendment rights and then disarm law-abiding Americans. Emily Miller tells her personal story of how being a single, female victim of a home invasion drove her to try to obtain a legally registered gun in Washington, D.C. The narrative - sometimes shocking, other times hilarious in its absurdity - gives the listener a real-life understanding of how gun-control laws only make it more difficult for honest, law-abiding people to get guns, while violent crime continues to rise. Using facts and newly uncovered research, Miller exposes the schemes politicians on Capitol Hill, in the White House, and around the country are using to deny people their Second Amendment rights. She exposes the myths that gun grabbers and liberal media use to get new laws passed that infringe on our right to keep and bear arms. The gun rights debate isn't just about firearms. It's about protecting a fundamental right that is enshrined in the U.S. Constitution. It's about politicians who lie, manipulate, and outright break existing laws to get what they want. It's about President Obama wanting a bigger federal government to control you. Not just your guns - you. The fight for gun rights is the fight for freedom. Emily Miller says stand up and fight back now because your Second Amendment will only be the first to go.

Pro-gunner - Read this book. Understand how far we have fallen from the founders' wishes and get to work. Anti-gunner - you say you have an open mind? Prove it! Read this book and find fault with the logic...if you can. "Emily Gets Her Gun" is a very well researched book about gun control across the nation and major players such as Obama and Bloomberg. I was expecting a story. A story that, for the most part, I had already read in the Washington Times. I was very wrong. It is not just about DC. Emily has cleaned it, polished it, and parsed it in a manner that fills in and completes the national story in a manner that I now realize was not available to her in her daily column. It is fresh in a way that I did not expect. The icing on the cake is the notes section. I have heard gun owners and anti-gunners alike say many things that they 'knew' but could not provide an informational source. Emily has extensive notes that give dates and web links located toward the back of the book so they do not get in the way of the reader and yet still are available for the thinker, researcher, and curiosity seeker.

I was disappointed to find that the home invasion incident she's turned into a book and a career turns out to be false. Please Google Emily Miller lied for supporting details and facts regarding the incident that is her claim to fame.

Emily Miller is a Second Amendment warrior. Chapters alternate between her personal story of navigating a completely absurd bureaucratic maze to exercise an individual, fundamental right which "shall not be infringed," and a thorough analysis of the lies, ignorance, and distortion used by the left, the media, and the current administration to undermine your rights. Ms. Miller included several appendices and meticulously documented her work with references to primary sources which increases the value of this resource immensely. Ms. Miller's writing style is easy and entertaining, making for a rapid read without losing any of the substance.

Emily Miller is supposedly a "reporter", but she seems to prefer fiction to reality. Washington Post has highlighted some disturbing allegations about how events in her book may have been fabricated. See "Additional document casts doubt on the home invasion of local Fox reporter"; also Gawker. From WaPo: "Emily Miller, the chief investigative reporter for WTTG-TV (Fox 5), didn't fall victim to a home invasion on New Year's Day 2010 as she has told various interviewers in recent years, including some gun-rights lobbying groups." It looks like Miller MADE UP an absurd story about being accosted by 15 thugs, when the actual police report says this: "But the 15-person-strong band of scruffies doesn't make the supplemental report's description: '[Miller] stated that she went into the house and felt that something was not right, so she exited the house to take a photo of [suspect's] vehicle. [Suspect] approached [Miller] and gave her a business card that stated [a tree service] and [suspect] left the scene. [Miller] stated that [suspect] was operating a silver pick up truck with landscaping on the side of it."Miller must have really wanted to catch the bad guy(s), right? In fact, she ignored all police follow-up calls: "Police attempted to contact Miller three times amid its investigationâ • on Feb. 3, 2010, Feb. 4 and Feb. 9. Three voicemail messages went unreturned. The undersigned made several attempts to contact the complainant which ended in negative results. The undersigned request that this report be suspended until additional means of contacting the complainant is provided, reads the [police] report."http://www.washingtonpost.com/blogs/erik-wemple/wp/2015/03/03/additional-document-cast-s-doubt-on-home-invasion-of-local-fox-reporter/andhttp://gawker.com/local-fox-reporters-home-inva-sion-story-got-more-dramat-1689546887Makes good reading.

We did. The bases she gives us a changes story from what really happened. For a side that prides itself with "honesty, values and the idea of America", then why do you need to make up the home invasion story? Why do you have to set it at night for an NRA pamphlet? Why tell the story in many different ways. See, this is where you lose people, especially the ones that actually care about honesty and truth...

So apparently she made this whole "home invasion" story up. Hilarious.[...]

I live in an area where there are a lot of wood deliveries, and a lot of wood delivery men, rumor has it some 15 at a time. I bought this book because I was sick of people delivering wood at all hours of the night. I finally took a stand and asked one for his business card. Then I bought this book, and am learning how to put an end to wood deliveries, and if it works F U milkman I am coming for your dairy smelling a$$ too. As soon as I get my license stand the hell back, logjammer, I am taking you down. Thanks Emily, your truth set me free.

Oh dear...shame about the breaking news that casts doubt upon the detailed background story that Emily felt justified getting that gun in the first place:[...]
